INVITATION

The Organizing Committee cordially invites you to the Austrian- German- Hungarian- Italian- Polish-Spanish Joint Meeting on Medicinal Chemistry (JMMC) to be held in Vienna, Austria during the period June 20 -23, 2005 under the auspices of the European Federation for Medicinal Chemistry.

The Vienna meeting will continue a tradition established at the three previous Joint Meetings of the series, held in Taormina (Italy) in 1999 Budapest (Hungary) in 2001 and Krakow (Poland) in 2003.

Vienna, right in the center of the European Union, with its commitment to research, its prospering economy and its rich cultural life, stimulating arts and music scene is the perfect city to combine science and tourism.

Peter Ettmayer, Chairman

SCIENTIFIC PROGRAM

Following the spirit of the previous meetings we envision a stimulating scientific event where scientists meet in one plenum to present & discuss all aspects of medicinal chemistry.

In Vienna we will focus on the following topics:

- Ø Lead & Drug likeness
- Ø Chemogenomics, CombiChem & other developing fields in Medicinal Chemistry
- Ø Medicinal Chemistry Case studies & Natural Product Synthesis
- Ø Oncology
- Ø Alzheimer and Central Nervous System disorders
- Ø Computer aided molecular design & virtual screening

Beside the invited lectures there will be a number of oral communications and poster sessions.

The Abstracts will be published in Scientia Pharmaceutica. The language of the meeting is English.

VENUE

The conference will take place right in the center of Vienna in the festive banquet hall of the University of Vienna. Founded in 1365 by Duke Herzog Rudolf IV following the standards defined by the Universities of Bologna and Paris, the University of Vienna is the oldest in the German-speaking part of Europe and one of the biggest Universities in central Europe.
